What do we mean by virtualization?

What do we mean by virtualization?

This is virtual reality.

What do we mean by virtualization?

We simply mean: the use of digital technology + platforms to execute and/or enhance an event or intended action.

That's it.

Why Virtualize?

Integrate for Success

Why Virtualize?

Existing Conditions

The Double Pandemic

⇒ Health + safety risks

⇒ Economic implications

⇒ Issues of equity

Why Virtualize?

Emerging Conditions

Toward a New Normal

⇒ Increased expectation of remote work and interactions

Why Virtualize?

Created Conditions

Identifying long-term opportunities beyond the challenges of the pandemic,
Creating an ideal environment for our work

- ⇒ Increased accessibility
- ⇒ Broader audience reach
- ⇒ New avenues for monetization
- ⇒ Renewed interest in innovation

What are we virtualizing, exactly?

Renee's Overview

Plan

Consider goals, size and type of audience, and duration

Participation

How do you want people to engage with you and your event before,
during, and after?

Platforms Used

Zoom, Hopin,
Facebook live,
Instagram Live

Envision your virtual experience

The Free Center Method

1. Set Goals

What do you need to get from the effort?
A new audience?
If revenue, how much?
If awareness, from whom and what sort?

Be specific and bold!

2. Frame a Vision

Imagine how people will experience key parts of your event. Don't worry about tech— focus on the emotion conveyed.

Think freely!

3. List Touchpoints

Make a thorough list of every encounter with your audience. Each step should support the goals and vision in some way.

Details, details!

NEXT : PLAN

Plan your virtual experience

The Free Center Method

4. Map Touchpoints

Set a spreadsheet of touchpoints and assess what tools you already use that can serve your needs. Tech is just a tool.

Use tools in new ways!

5. Resources!

Know your budget and what you need for return on investment. Allocate resources where they truly benefit your plan.

Don't overdo it!

6. Deep Breath

We are getting close to having seen it all. Success is about content and access... not whizbang. The more complex, the more risk.

Imagination/anticipation!

PROTOTYPE

Prototype your virtual experience

The Free Center Method

Everything should be made as simple as possible,
But not simpler.

Prototype your virtual experience

The Free Center Method

Even simple solutions benefit from a test phase.
Seriously—test it all!

Test connections, timing, logins, equipment, run of show

Pick your tech tools

All of the tools we've reviewed have pros and cons. If you follow the previous steps, you'll be able to determine the best tool for your program.

Not every program will benefit from the same tech tools.

Run through the process with each program.

Our Top Considerations

⇒ Features

Does the tech meet my integration needs?

⇒ Cost

Is it turnkey but expensive?
Do you need it all?

⇒ Latency + Compression

How in-sync is the audio?
How clear is the image?
Which is more important?

⇒ Event Management

How does the tech integrate with registration? One-stop-shop or DIY?

⇒ Support & Reliability

Is it stable? Can you get support when you need it? Dependent on:

⇒ Tech-Ready (you + guests)

More features require more know-how. How tech-savvy have you and your audience become?

Free Center's Tech Recommendations

Drum roll, please... after this disclaimer:

It's really about YOU not us.

⇒ Trust the process we outlined.

Our picks may not be your picks.

⇒ Wow! There's so much out there now—with new platforms every day. Vet, check reviews, TEST ← this!

⇒ Tech is only human.

Like a live performance or exhibition or neighborhood convening, or anything with a ton of variables—stuff happens.

These preferences do not come with a warranty.

What are we virtualizing, exactly?

The screenshot displays a Zoom webinar in progress. At the top left, a 'Recording...' indicator is visible. The main content area is split: on the left, a female presenter in a blue sweater is speaking; on the right, a slide titled 'WHAT IS A BUSINESS MODEL' is shown. The slide text reads: 'A business model is a company's plan for how it will generate revenues and make a profit. It explains what products or services the business plans to manufacture and market, and how it plans to do so.' Below the slide is a progress bar with five markers, the second of which is highlighted in orange. At the bottom, the Zoom control bar includes icons for Mute, Start Video, Invite, Manage Participants, Polls, Share, Chat, and Pause/Stop Recording. A dropdown menu is open on the right, showing options to 'Live on Facebook', 'Live on Workplace by Facebook', and 'Live on YouTube'. The 'End Meeting' button is visible in the bottom right corner.

The screenshot shows the Twitch channel page for 'HideoutTheatre'. At the top, the browser address bar shows 'twitch.tv/hideouttheatre'. The navigation bar includes 'Browse', 'Esports', and 'Music'. A search bar is present with the text 'Search'. On the right side of the navigation bar, there are icons for notifications (49), 'Log In', and 'Sign Up'. The main content area features a large green banner with the text 'hideouttheatre' repeated. A video player is embedded in the center, showing a 'Meet HideoutTheatre!' video. The video player has a play button and a right arrow. Below the video player, there is a section for 'HideoutTheatre's Channel Trailer'. The left sidebar lists 'RECOMMENDED CHANNELS' with various streamers and their follower counts. The bottom section of the page shows the channel's profile, including the name 'HideoutTheatre', '1.3K followers', and buttons for 'Follow' and 'Subscribe'. Below the profile, there are tabs for 'Home', 'About', 'Schedule', 'Videos', and 'Chat'. The 'Recent highlights and uploads' section displays four video thumbnails: a Zoom meeting (34:47, 15 views), a red thumbnail for 'HNTS' (56:48, 2 views), a Mario game thumbnail (54:04, 0 views), and a 'MAESTRO' performance thumbnail (1:22:19, 3 views).

At The River I Stand

Inspired by the events that transpired during the infamous Sanitation Worker's Strike of 1968, AT THE RIVER I STAND follows an eclectic group of Negro musicians who travel to Memphis to produce a benefit concert in support of local workers in the throes of a racially charged labor dispute.

Covid-19: A United Response of Fractured Performance

May 31, 2020

An original new media piece. Using theater writing, acting and video editing techniques, YPI interns have created short, original pieces exploring detailed ways COVID-19 is affecting groups of people, including the difference in how black, brown, and indigenous folk are treated; the affect of COVID-19 on schools; and what social isolation does to people psychologically. Each piece is being filmed in quarantine by each intern individually.

Monetization

Considerations

Reasons to offer virtual programs:

- Ongoing support of mission
- Audience engagement
- Revenue generation

You're not alone.

Everyone is trying to figure out whether people will pay for virtual programs and, if so, how much.

Models to explore

- Free or low-cost programs with suggested donations
- Underwriting (corporate, foundation, individual)

Best Practices

For Hosts

- ⇒ Use a desktop/laptop, not a phone
- ⇒ Turn off phone ringer and notifications
- ⇒ Test equipment: internet connection, camera, microphone
- ⇒ Make sure you're light source is in front of you, not behind
- ⇒ Include Company Branding in your Virtual Background

- ⇒ Direct guests to ask questions in chat so interruptions are minimized
- ⇒ Icebreaker during virtual meeting start a feedback loop
- ⇒ Use chat and/or polls for survey questions
- ⇒ There really isn't a Like button in Zoom so use chat for that with a "L" for "like" or a "W" for "wow" to encourage feedback.

And our favorite: ^+1 (to indicate endorsement of a previous comment)

Wrap Up Time

Start with what you have

Think through your strategy: goals + audience needs

Establish your best practices and process

Test before you go live!

Keep learning and improving on that process:

Don't try to do it all the first time
